must rub one's eyes when told that by a visit to a theatre it is possible to see reproduced, with every fidelity of detail and gorgeous color effects, the scenes and incidents of the greatest Oriental pageant known in the history of the world.

Yet this is all true, for the camera has given humanity absolute intellectual domain over the entire globe. It has reduced the world to the size of an orange, which can be turned about at will and minutely examined as if with a magnifier.

A THIRD POLITICAL PARTY

Edmonton, April 2.—What may be forerunner of a third party in western Canada is seemed by politicians in the pledge incorporated in circular letters, distributed by Rev. W. G.W. Fortune, secretary of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform association, acting under the direction of the Committee of One Hundred. The plan is to work only for the election of men who are unalterably opposed to the liquor traffic. The pledge follows: "I solemnly pledge myself, in the presence of my fellow men, that so long as the liquor traffic exists in the province of Alberta, I will renounce my party ties and affiliations, of whatever kind they may have been, if necessary, and will stand firmly by vote and influence with the Committee of One Hundred, for the election of competent men to the legislature." Mr. Fortune reports that many are signing the pledges.

BANK CASHIER KILLED

Barnes, Kas., March 31—Robert C. Brown, cashier of the Barnes State Bank, was shot and killed yesterday by a man who had robbed the instisummons was received to "the happier land beyond the cloud capped hill."

Father Lejeune will conduct the funeral service on Friday next.

WEDDINGS

One by one the roses fade: one by one the bachelors fall from their estate. Sergt. J. L. Notley, of the City police force, and one of the best known figures in Kamloops, is the latest to surrender to Dan Cupid. At five o'clock this afternoon he will lead Miss Clara E. Beasley to the altar at St. Paul's Church.

After the wedding the happy couple will leave for Revelstoke and Arrow Lakes on a short honeymoon trip.

The good wishes of their many friends will accompany them.

Listen! Everyone is going and talking about the basket dance at the Drill Hall on Monday evening. Don't you be the one to miss it.
